

TIPS FROM STATUS QUO

Status Quo's Geoff Rich enjoys his drum masterclass.

Shiplake College pupils were lucky enough to have been given a drum masterclass by Status Quo's drummer, Geoff Rich.

He showed young drummers the way it should be done and talked about how early cave people used stretched wet animal skins over hollow logs to produce the first drums. He also made sure that everyone got involved with a highly entertaining percussion session.

Mr. Rich, who began drumming at the tender age of five, will now rejoin Status Quo for a tour of South America.
